

Kevin,

I wanted to take a moment to tell you how impressed I am with FlexWeb Pro. At first I was completely wowed by the technical excellence so evident in the product. Then after taking a closer look, I believe it will be a tremendous success for you for the same reason that the iPod was successful. It has just the right features to be a very effective web application and it can set up and used by almost anyone.

I truly believe the success of this venture will outshine your already well documented success with other companies!

Sincerely,

Steven W. Snider,
